THE LONDON FIVE ARMIES.

TROUBLE BREWING.

SECRET REPUBLICAN CONVENTION.

LONDON, March 26.

Two hundred delegates from the various commands in all parts of Ireland, mostly young men not in uniform and with the appearance of country lads, attended a convention of the I.R.A. held at the Madison House in Dublin to-day in spite of the prohibition of the Dublin Eireann cabinet. A score of men formed a cordon round the building but the authorities did not attempt to interfere. The session lasted all day. The utmost secrecy was maintained.

A powerful secession from the I.R.A. appears inevitable in view of the Defence Minister's announcement that any men participating will be dismissed from the army. The fact that the Provisional Government was powerless to prevent the convention seems to justify the boast of the Republican commandant, O'Connor, that after the convention there will be five armies in Ireland, namely the Free State Army, the Civil Guard, and the Republican, the British and the Northern Armies.

DRASTIC BOYCOTT.

LONDON, March 27.

The I.R.A. convention confirmed the maintenance of the Republican army under an executive of sixteen members and decided to enforce a drastic boycott of the six northern counties.

ASIA MINOR TRUCE.

GREEN'S ATTITUDE.

PARIS, March 26.

GERMAN CUSTOMS SURTAX.

BERLIN, March 26.

The surtax on customs dues to be imposed on April 1 in order to bring them to gold-parity has been fixed at 5.90 per cent. The duties will thus be sixty times the original tariff.

BANQUE INDUSTRIELLE.

BERTHELOT BROTHERS' FINANCES.

PARIS, March 26.

It is stated that M. Andre Berthelot told the magistrate that the 3,500,000 francs (mentioned in our earlier cables) was his own and did not belong to the Banque Industrielle de Chine. He added that his brother Philippe never directly or indirectly received any monies belonging to the bank.

OUT OF WORK

DUTCH ASSISTANT BECOMES A VAGRANT.

ALLEGED SUMMARY DISMISAL.

Notice is hereby given that Mr. J. L. H. Ritman comes to be in the employ of our Company as from this date (March 24).

This advertisement inserted in Saturday's newspapers by the Holland China Trading Company had a sequel in Magistrate Wood's Court this morning when Ritman was charged with being a vagrant.

Defendant, a well-dressed Dutchman, said that he arrived in Hongkong in August 1920 to join the Holland-China Trading Company. His salary was $200 per month. Before he left Holland he was told that $200 was sufficient to live on in Hongkong, and that he would be able to save $50 per month easily.

Board and lodging, he was informed, cost only $70 per month. On these representations, he accepted the position. Arriving here, however, he soon discovered that his salary was less than he had been told to believe.

Representations to the firm secured him $50 more. Ten months he worked in the Hongkong office and was then transferred to Canton.

As far as he knew, his work had been satisfactory. A few days ago he was informed by the Hongkong manager that owing to the trouble about his salary, his services were no longer required.

Compensation was refused. Defendant added that he did not think his demand for a bigger salary was unreasonable, because people with the same capabilities as himself were getting $375 per month.

Inspector Marks told the Magistrate that the defendant gave himself up at the Central Police Station on Saturday. He was sent to interview the Dutch consul, but apparently the latter declined to take any action. When the defendant returned, added the inspector, he decided to have him charged.

The Magistrate asked the defendant if he expected to get other work here. Defendant said he did not know. All he wanted was a passage back to Holland, and this he understood the local manager of the company would not give unless forced.

The Magistrate said that all he could do was to declare the defendant a vagrant under the Ordinance. The police would find accommodation for him in the Sailors' Home, if possible, and the expenses would come out of the poor box for one week only. During this time defendant would have to try to find work. The police would help him as far as they could but if at the end of the week he was still out of work, then he would be brought to Court again.

Defendant asked the Magistrate if he could not do anything to secure a passage for him.

The Magistrate said that he would not discuss arrangements between the defendant and his employers.

Later Mr. C. P. E. J. Wodehouse, D.S.P., appeared in Court and asked that Ritman should be sent to the House of Detention instead of to the Sailors' Home, in order to avoid trouble with the expenses. He did not think the police would be able to find work for him.

The Magistrate explained to Mr. Wodehouse that he had directed the expenses should be paid out of the poor box. Therefore he need not trouble on that point.

Defendant asked the Magistrate if he could not do anything to secure a passage for him.

THE QUANTS

SUCCESSFUL FAREWELL SEASON.

How firmly Mr. Salisbury and his clever team have established themselves in the popular favour is demonstrated by the big success not less than by the enthusiasm of the audience which are turning up at the Theatre Royal for each night of the Quants' brief farewell season here.

Mr. Salisbury has the knack of gauging the taste of his audience to a nicety and of presenting his programme, once chosen, in a fashion that makes certain of its success.

Individually, the Quants are artists of distinct ability; collectively they furnish a shining example of what team work on the stage really means.

Saturday night's audience at the Theatre Royal went home hugely delighted with the map and sparkle of the entertainment provided for its delectation.

Mr. Salisbury was seen in a diverting telephone dialogue and later on he hit the mark again with his humorous song including possibly his most famous one, "A noisy noise annoys an Oyster."

Mr. Gay was at the top of his form in a ridiculously funny little sketch called "The Rest Cure," and the rest of the company all merited richly the warm ovation they were given at the close of the performance.

There will be another change of programme to-night. Booking at Moutrie's.

WORLD THEATRE.

The beautiful and sensational drama "Gaby," which has attracted full houses in all the theatres where it has been presented, is to be shown at the World Theatre to-day, by special request at 5 p.m. and 9.15 p.m.

"Gaby" is adapted from the novel by Marcel Herber, entitled "The Angel of Forgiveness," which achieved fine success on its first presentation to the public.

"DEAD" WOMAN.

RECOVERS TO DOCTOR'S SURPRISE.

A quarter of an hour after the doctor said she was dead and while he was expecting the relatives to call for the death certificate, Mrs. Hart, the 23-year-old wife of a professional singer, of 6, Herbert-street, Richmond, Yorkshire, amazed the mourners at her bedside by showing signs of life.

Bewildered, the nurse rushed to the doctor's surgery. "Have you called for the death certificate?" he asked. "No!" she replied. "I have just left the patient drinking champagne!"

The doctor is completely mystified. He said: "It is a case where the woman had an attack of syncope followed by heart failure three days after her confinement. I started with her all night and could not make out what was the cause of the heart attack. At 6 a.m. she was still alive, but almost on the point of death, and then for certainly a quarter of an hour she was to all intents and purposes dead. I can only suppose that the heart must have been active to a certain degree and that the effect of administering stimulants and oxygen tended to revive her. The patient is now practically convalescent, and I hope to see her make a good recovery."

FAIRY GRANDMOTHER.

"HEE" WHO RAISED £10,000
AND NOW IS LOST.

A grandmother with a fortune of £10,000 has been causing some anxiety to a group of London business men.

She sailed into their view some months ago, when on the strength of the fortune she was going to leave a newly found grandson they made advance to him of sums varying from £250 to £1,200, and amounting to £10,000 in all.

His story was simple and romantic. A solicitor had called on him with the welcome news that he was the grandson of a woman with a country inn in one of the Home Counties, eighty cottages, and cash in the bank, all to the value of £40,000.

The grandmother was ailing but firm in her devotion to her newly found grandson. Weekly he made reports on the state of her health and told stories of his visits to her riverside house. Lately, he broke the sad news that she was dead.

With mingled feelings of regret and relief his business acquaintances consoled with him. He cheered them with the news that he would repay their loans with interest. Half a dozen at least took him seriously and called at his office on the appointed day.

But the grandson did not appear. Inquiries were made for ten miles round the house where the grandmother was said to have lived, but no trace was found of her dead or alive. Meanwhile the grandson had said "Good-bye" to his wife, intimating to her that he was in financial difficulties, and she has not seen him since.

A LIFE SAVER.

It is safe to say that Chamberlain's Cough and Whooping Cough Remedy has saved the lives of more people and relieved more suffering than any other remedy in existence. DRINKS IN THE EAST.

A DISSERTATION ON LIQUID
REFRESHMENT.

In an article on "What India Drinks" a contributor to Harper's Wine and Spirit Gazette writes:—

In European circles in India fashions in liquor change much as they do elsewhere. Brandy, for example, was ousted—temporarily—by whisky, the doctors having declared (hand on heart) that whisky was better suited to the climate. For a time the "civil surgeons" were believed, and brandy had no friends. Then a reaction set in, and brandy was divided, brandy being considered invaluable in cases of heat prostration. Eventually brandy was relegated to medical use, and whisky and soda became the drink.

From rose embowered Peshawar on the Afghan border to dusty Tuticorin in the extreme south, and from muggy Bombay to equally steaming Calcutta, the whisky "peg" had a vogue. And to-day? Whisky, whisky all the way. Lime-juice and soda (dashed with gin) has been tried; also sauterne and soda and claret and soda. Order has had many a good end-of, and penny, too. The insidious "peg," however, always outlasts them.

For dances champagne is in demand claret and sauterne, or grapes, being required for cup purposes. At every burra khabab (official dinner) there is a plentiful supply of champagne—simpler the native servants call it. At weddings "bubbly" is as necessary as the ring and the parson, while it circulates at race dinners and promotion parties. But other wines are rarely to be met with—that is, to say, wines of dignity and character. The noble Romance, the well-bodied Pommard, the Chateau Y. Qu'en of poetic bouquet, the admirable Montrachet, the agreeable Barzac, the pleasant Pouilly; these, alas, are not in demand, and probably never will be. An after-dinner glass of port is all the civilian allows himself, and perhaps an occasional glass of Madeira as an aperitif. Nor are officers' messes any longer renowned for their cellars. Champagne on guest nights, whisky and soda at other times.

Light beer (in bulk and bottle) has a tremendous sale, but it must be the very lightest. Some years ago an attempt was made by an English brewer (since defunct) to out-German Pilsener. But the result was disastrous, his beer invariably being as flat as any pancake. Nor was Anglo-Indians particularly keen on the country-brewed beer. "It lacks bite" is their verdict.

Attempts have been made to introduce Swiss, Hungarian, and lian, Californian, Cape, Greek, Italian and Cashmere wine. The last-named was killed by the high freight and poor quality. The Swiss sparkling wine and the satisfying Engländer were, for some extraordinary reason, not appreciated. The good Carlowitz, though intelligently advertised, found no friends, and the Australian and Californian vintages were only used for cup purposes. The Cape wine became a joke, as also did the juice of the Greek grape. And the Italian wines could not (so the connoisseurs declared) compare with the red and white wines of France. India, in short, remained very conservative, though at one time she favoured the red wine of Algeria. But not for long, for it was found to be too rough a tipple. Only when plentifully dashed with soda did it please the Anglo-Indian palate. Spanish claret also was tried, and for a few years it enjoyed a limited popularity. But "Rioja" eventually went the way of many another innovation.

Attempts have been made to introduce little-known champagnes. Excellent wine, dry without losing its characteristics and of the desired bouquet. The stubborn ones, however, refused to bow to strange gods. "Heidieck, we know, and Pommery we know," said they, paraphrasing Elton's impudent (and classic) query, "but who are you?" Still, Poi Roger has had many friends in India, and so have Veuve Clicquot and Moet. Irroy, too, has made a favourable impression, as also has Perrier-Jouet.

Certainly, some of the champagnes sent out to the "East Indies" during the past thirty years have been curious concoctions. They also were furnished with names, testimonials and guarantees which failed to impress the civil and military population. The result of these overtures is that club secretaries and mess secretaries simply will not try new brands. "It is," they declare, "as much as our lives are worth." Perhaps it is.

Because he failed to give the book-makers who contested his claim for the return of $82 6s. 3d. as the amount of cheques paid for betting losses particulars of the Horses backed.

Dates of the bets, and the amount invested in each case.

Mr. David Lewis, of Finsbury market, E.C., lost his action against Messrs. Archie and Co., turf commission agents of St. John-street, West Smithfield, E.C., before Judge Parfitt at Clerkenwell County Court.

Mr. Lewis said that the 12 cheques produced in court were drawn by him in favour of Messrs. Archie and Co. for bets made on horse racing.

Sir Harold Smith, for Messrs. Archie, contended that unless Mr. Lewis was in a position to give details of the various transactions there was no case to answer.

After some legal argument, Judge Parfitt held that Mr. Lewis had given no evidence either in respect of horses backed, the dates of the losses, or the amounts invested. As Mr. Lewis had not proved his case there must be judgment for Archie and Co. with costs.

NOTICE TO OFFICERS AND ENGINEERS OF THE BRITISH MERCANTILE MARINE.

IN accordance with the expressed wish of H.R.H. The Prince of Wales to meet all ex-service men, among whom he mentioned officers of the Mercantile Marine, His Excellency the Governor most kindly extends to all certificated members of that Service in ships using or passing through the Port an invitation to be present in the grounds of Government House at 2.30 p.m. on the afternoon of April 6th, when His Royal Highness looks forward to meeting them. In announcements of the above already issued, the final date of application for tickets of admission is stated to be March 25th. It has however been realized that if this date is strictly observed, the majority of officers likely to be in port on April 6th will be prevented from attending. Arrangements have therefore been made that officers should apply as soon as possible for cards of admission to the Rev. C.T. Waldgrave, Seamen's Institute, Praya East; (stating rank, ship, name of firm, and any war-services and decorations), the final date of application being kept as late as possible in order to obviate in some measure the difficulty above stated.

BRICKWORKS FIRE.

A fire broke out at 4 o'clock on Saturday in Leung Yik Yan brickworks at Lokmatan, on the Fanling-Antau main road.

Helped by a strong wind, the flames rapidly destroyed the wood and tile roof of the stone building. Sparks ignited a match in the vicinity used for storing dried grass, and the whole was burned to the ground before the firemen arrived. The police with the help of the villagers managed to check the progress of the flames after a very strenuous fight and finally extinguished the fire.

Damage to the extent of $3,000 was done to property owned by Mr. Man Young, of Samchin.

The damage is not covered by insurance. The cause of the outbreak is still unknown.

ODDS AND ENDS.

World's Greatest Swindler.

The Barcelona police have arrested the greatest swindler of recent times, Antonio Lusio Buco, who has been wanted for the last eight years for a series of frauds perpetrated upon various banks in the world by means of an inimitable system of forging letters of credit which had been puzzling the experts. He obtained through this means hundreds of thousands of pounds sterling. Buco adopted numerous aliases, most of them aristocratic. He once passed himself off for the King of Spain. He lived in the style of a Grand Seigneur and married and desecrated numerous women, including the daughter of the Prefect of Police of Havana. He was able to speak seven languages.

"Baa Baa!" From the Throne

Not every Sovereign has been careful for his dignity when delivering the Speech from the Throne, at the opening of Parliament. George IV, when Prince Regent, once bet Sheridan that so little attention would be given to what he read that he could interpolate anything he liked without causing surprise. The bet was accepted, and, halfway through the Speech the Prince paused, said "Baa, baa, black sheep," and went on without anyone seeming to notice. Sheridan related the anecdote to Canning, and expressed amazement that no notice had been taken. "Didn't you hear him say the words distinctly?" he asked. "I did," replied Canning, "but as he was looking straight at you as he said them I took it for a merely personal allusion."

Chinese Doctors Objected to.—Strong objection to the appointment of a Chinese doctor was taken at a meeting of the Burnley Insurance Committee. Dr. Gardner said Chinese and Hindus were coming to London, settling down in the East End with a preliminary training and finishing with taking London degrees. They required an Act of Parliament to put a stop to this. The Clerk said the National Insurance rules did not stipulate that panel doctors should be British. The question was adjourned for investigation.

"HUMBUG" ABOUT CHINA.

CHARGE D'AFFAIRES AND
"SO-CALLED FRIENDS."

Mr. Chao Hsin Chu, Chinese Charge d'Affaires, speaking at the annual dinner at the Central Union of Chinese Students in Great Britain and Ireland, at the Connaught Rooms, said so-called friends of China sometimes remarked "the most interesting thing would be to find out how to open up China." Was it not fair to ask whether China had not views of her own as to how she should be opened up? Judging from the way some people talked, China was very much in the position of some joint at a sacrificial feast with every guest trying to discuss how they could best carve it up to their own advantage, while all the time pretending that they really had no personal interest in the matter at all, and that they were really actuated by the greatest goodwill towards the animal which had furnished the chief dish of the evening.

He thought a lot of what he believed the English called "humbug" was being talked with respect to China. They knew perfectly well what they wanted. They knew perfectly well what the "Open Door" meant. They knew perfectly well what they intended to do, and they knew perfectly well what they intended others should not do. He reminded them of the original policy of the "Open Door," which was first advocated about a quarter of a century ago by the American statesman, Mr. John Hay, who said: "Whoever understands China socially, politically, economically, religiously, holds the key to the world's politics for the next five centuries."

"In conclusion he said he would like to see in Britain far greater educational facilities in the Universities and Colleges for Chinese students, far greater facilities in the factories for learning really practical technical education. He could not understand why British manufacturers did not realise that every Chinese student trained in their place of business would be in future a potential commercial traveller for them."

"NOT LIKE G.B.S."

JUDGE'S COMMENT ON THE ATTORNEY GENERAL.

ANOTHER RENTS QUERY.

"Unfortunately," observed the Primate Judge (Mr. H. H. J. Gompertz) in the Summary Court this morning during the hearing of a case under the Rents Ordinance, "the Attorney General is not like Bernard Shaw—he does not write a long preface to tell you what the play is about. I have often wondered what the section means."

His Honour was referring to Section 15 of the Rents Ordinance which states: "If any lease of any domestic tenement a portion of which is occupied by the lessee himself or by his family or servants shall expire after the commencement of this Ordinance nothing in this Ordinance shall be construed as enabling such lessee to retain possession of any portion of such domestic tenement which he does not occupy himself or by his family or servants."

The case was one in which the owner of houses standing back to back at 41 Des Voeux Road and 72 Connaught Road West sought to recover possession from the present tenant on the ground that the bulk of the premises was being used as a godown and was required for the housing of his folk.

Mr. E. Davidson, who appeared for the plaintiff, suggested that section 15 had been introduced to meet local conditions.

The Primate Judge said it rather looked as though, if a man had premises which he used partly as a shop and partly for the accommodation of himself and the other people working in the shop, it seemed to him that the whole of these premises would be virtually a domestic tenement.

Mr. Lo, who appeared for the defence, urged that there was no case to answer but put up a lengthy argument based partly on the doctrine of res judicata. Referring His Honour to a previous action before Mr. J. R. Wood between the parties over the same premises in which the plaintiff was unsuccessful, Mr. Lo said: "If I did not have the respect that I have for my friend I would say this was an impudent attempt to get something which he was told by the Court that he could not get. I would say that it was a vexatious action."

Regarding Section 15 Mr. Lo's opinion was that not a single word in it said that a lessor could come into Court and claim possession. It was purely a matter of construction. All that section 15 said was that in a certain contingency nothing in this Ordinance should be construed as enabling the lessee to do so and so.

Replying to Mr. Lo's argument Mr. Davidson said that if Mr. Lo's argument that the Ordinance gave to landlord no more rights than he had before was true then section 15 was a dead letter. Mr. Davidson urged that this was clearly an enabling Ordinance which enabled the landlord to claim portion DISCARDED MUMMY.

WHY A WOMAN'S FEET WERE FOUND IN THE DUSTBIN.

A woman's limbs found in a dustbin in the Harehills district of Leeds, after causing some excitement, were identified as part of a mummy, once the property of Mr. James Hillyard, a local undertaker, who had a small private museum.

On Mr. Hillyard's death the mummy became the property of an auctioneer's clerk Mr. H. Winwood, who hoped to sell it to a doctor.

"I failed to do this," he said, "and, finding I could not conveniently move it from place to place, I dismembered the mummy and buried the trunk at the undertaker's. The limbs remained in my lodgings until I moved, and when I found my suit case would take only the head, I left the feet and hands behind. I suppose the landlady threw them into the dustbin."

A doctor who saw the feet described them as small, beautiful, and well-preserved, and likely to be very old. He thought they were not those of an Englishwoman.

VITRIOL MANIACS.

CLOAKS AND FURS OF 500
WOMEN DAMAGED.

The continued destruction by means of vitriol of women's fur cloaks and wraps in the vicinity of the Place de l'Opera and the big shops has become a public danger and has alarmed all the women of Paris.

More than 500 complaints of damage and in some cases of skin burns have been received by the police, and it is thought likely that in almost as many cases the victims have not cared to complain. The police state that, despite the closest surveillance in the districts where the offences have been most numerous, their plain-clothes men and the ordinary uniform police have been unable to get a sight of the offenders.

Most of the attacks have taken place between 5 and 7 in the evening, when the crowds round the big fancy warehouses are naturally thickest.

Professor Babinski, the brain specialist, thinks that probably 3 or 4 anarchist maniacs must be at work since the victims have been women wearing furs or costly cloaks.

The results of the Italian Convent Pitman's shorthand examinations are as follows:—Speed, Misses Lily Wilkinson, Laura Figueiredo and Maria Alaracha. Elementary—Misses Ada Pepperel, Juliette Elord, Jacintha Domingo, Violet Danenberg, Violet May, Irene Ahwee and Marjorie Pien.

of the premises whereas previously he could claim only the whole.

The case was then adjourned to this afternoon in order to give Mr. Davidson an opportunity of going into Mr. Lo's defence of res judicata.

FOOTBALL.

CLUB WINS SHIELD.

DEFEAT R.G.A. 2-0.

In drizzling rain on Saturday afternoon, the Club and the R.G.A. played a strenuous game together in the final of the Hongkong Shield Competition. There was a large crowd of spectators.

The teams lined up as follows:—Club:—G. Rodger; Gerrard and McCabbin; Telfer, Stewart and McPhail (capt.); McFavish, Forsyth, Begg, Knurr and England. R.G.A.:—Phillips; Walker (capt.) and Woodhouse; Bailey, Pasco and Donovan; Keay, Yeale, McHugh, Lalliot and Couzens.

Referee: Mr. F. Smith. Lineemen: Messrs. Bulton (Curlew) and Holland (Police).

McPhail won the toss and elected to defend the match end of the field. McHugh kicked off for the Gunners and the game opened fast, with the forwards swinging down the field in fine formation and excellent combination. Bailey promptly tested Rodger when within range, but the latter cleared. The pressure was kept up until hands against the invaders relieved and McPhail sent England away, but the ball was sent behind. A ding dong struggle followed with both ends of the field visited in quick succession, but in every case the defences were able to cope with the attack and clear before any damage could be done. There was an exciting moment in front of the Club goal when Couzens placed beautifully from a corner kick off Gerrard. In the melee which followed in front of goal, McHugh fouled Telfer and a good chance of opening the score was spoiled. The Club also gave the defence an anxious time at the other end but Phillips just managed to get to the ball. The Club was getting slightly the better of the exchanges at this juncture, but their shooting was extraordinarily inaccurate and the ball went wide. The Gunners' forwards showed that they were not much better than their opponents in this respect when Yeale headed the ball over the cross bar close in, with Rodger beaten to the wide. Towards the close of the first half, the Club went down in perfect combination, but the ball was forced over the line. Receiving from the throw-in, Begg sent over to Forsyth who was unmarked a few yards from goal. He made no mistake and shot the ball hard into the net beyond Phillips' reach. Half time came with the Club leading 1-0.

The Club resumed the attack in the second half but Woodhouse cleared. McPhail fouled McHugh just outside the penalty area, and Rodger did well to clear from the free kick. England went away for the Club but was pulled up by the back. Hands against Lalliot gave England another excellent chance. He sent in a low shot which Phillips kicked out. The ball struck Telfer and rebounded wide of the posts. At the other end Gerrard had to kick out to avoid Couzens. Donovan gave McHugh a good chance from a free kick against Gerrard, but the centre forward headed the ball wide. The Club went down and McFavish cut across the goalmouth with a shot which would have been impossible to save had it been a little more accurately directed. The Gunners kept the Club in their own territory for several minutes after this, but try as they would they could not beat the defence. Suddenly Knurr broke away in a furious run down the field and ended up by shooting straight at Phillips. The ball rose dangerously, but the goalie managed to pull it down in the second attempt. England returned the ball in the danger zone and in the excitement which followed, Walker put the ball into his own goal. After this the Gunners tried hard to save the match, but the Club defence was equal to the situation and managed to keep their citadel intact up to the final whistle. The Club won by 2-0. At the close of the game the players assembled in front of the Club stand where the trophies were on view.

Mr. T. S. R. Nichol, Hon. Sec. to the Shield Competition, said: "Before asking Mrs. Nicholson to present the trophies I would like to say a few words for the benefit of newcomers. The Challenge Shield was subscribed for by the Hongkong community and presented to the H.K.F.C. as a challenge trophy to be played for annually. Since 1897, the year in which it was presented, it has been played for 33 times and this is the fifth occasion on which it has been won by the H.K.F.C. The David Cup was presented by Messrs. David and Co. in 1908, as a challenge trophy to the runners-up in the competition. This competition is organized and run by the Hongkong F.C. who endeavour to make it as sporting an event as possible. I think everyone will agree with me in saying we have to-day witnessed a very fine match indeed and although the R.G.A. have been unsuccessful in winning they must be complimented on the very fine game they have put up. I have now very great pleasure indeed in calling upon Mrs. Nicholson to present the trophies." (Cheers.)

Mrs. Nicholson then handed to McPhail the Challenge Shield and gold replicas of the shield to each member of the Club team. She also handed to Walker the "David" Cup and a small shield to each member of the R.G.A. team.

Mr. Nichol then handed to Mrs. Nicholson a beautiful bouquet in a silver holder asking her to accept it on behalf of the members of the Hongkong F.C. as a small token of their appreciation for her presence there and for presenting the trophies. The Secretary called for three cheers for Mrs. Nicholson.

Mr. Nicholson, replying on behalf of Mrs. Nicholson, said it gave them much pleasure in attending at the invitation of the Club to present the trophies and medals won in the competition. He congratulated the R. G. A. on the splendid game they had put up and mentioned that they were now runners up for the second year in succession and hoped they would go one better next year and win the shield.

He complimented the Club on winning the shield.

Redeeping cheers between the teams brought the pleasant proceedings to a close.

THE LEAGUE.

DIVISION I.

KOWLOON 1 CHINESE 1.

In spite of the drizzling rain, the South China ground was as crowded as usual by the supporters of the home team for this match, which was very evenly contested, ending in a draw of one goal all. The Chinese held second position in the league table and are great favourites for championship honours, but the Kowloonites very creditably deprived them of a valuable point. Chan So drew first blood for South China through Wheeler handling in the penalty area. The penalty kick gave Woodman no chance. The rest of the game was without incident and the Chinese looked like winning, but just before time Hall beat Lau Hing Cheong, and the honours were divided.

DIVISION II.

"CURLEW" 4, CLUB RES 1.

The Sailors were too strong for the Club in this match and won comfortably by four goals to one. Macdonald had hard lines in heading the ball into his own net giving the Sailors the lead. Soon

SAFE RIFLED.

SHOPMEN UNKNOWNLY AID THIEF.

About 1.30 this morning a Queen's Road Central shop job answered a knock at the door. A voice outside said that a job of the Shing Cheong shop of Canton, (the firm's agents), had just arrived by the night boat. The job opened the door, and the visitor asked permission to sleep in the shop. This request was granted and at 4 a.m., he asked another job to let him out. Several hours later it was discovered that the visitor having obtained possession of the key, had rifled the safe, stealing $3,729 in Hongkong bank notes, three open cheques, 75 pesos in Philippine notes, two American notes for $20 gold each, four for $5 gold each, and a pair of bangles valued at $110.

LAST NIGHT'S RAIN.

Hongkong's rainfall during the 24 hours ending at 10 a.m. to-day was 1.89 inch. The total since January 1 was 11.06 inches, against an average of 11.06 inches.

TYPHOON WARNING.

The telegram quoted below was received by the American Consulate General from the Manila Observatory at 2.15 p.m. to-day:—

Typhoon in about 113 deg. Long. E. 20 deg. Lat. N. moving N.N.W.

The drum was hoisted at the Harbour Office this morning. It was learned this afternoon that the typhoon was in 19° N. Lat. and 113° E. Long., moving very slowly.

One case of plague (fatal), Chinese, and one of paratyphoid fever, British, were notified yesterday.

afterwards Riley put them two up. Angus reduced the lead to 2-1 a little before the interval. Hutchison misjudged the ball in the second half from an overhead kick by Hender and the Sailors were again two up. Riley did the needful with a fine pass just before time and notched the Sailors' No. 4 goal.

KINGS 2, KOWLOON RES. 0.

Kowloon started this match with only six players, and made a very poor show against the Soldiers. They were joined by a seventh man several minutes after play had started and resorted to the one back game. The match became a farce as a result owing to the numerous offences. In spite of this however, the Soldiers were able to score twice and thus earn the two points at stake.

ST. JOSEPH'S 1; VARSITY 0.

The Collegians were strong for this match against the University. Evenly contested on the home ground, it was won by the only goal scored. Tai Yiu Ai scored in the closing minutes of the game, just when a draw seemed inevitable.

CHINESE "A" 1; UNITED 0.

This was also an evenly contested match. The Chinese scored after ten minutes' play, and then concentrated on the defence of their citadel. United tried hard but could not break through and had to admit defeat by the only goal of the match.

Sunshine or rain, the weather has its effects on our spirits. However, even the worst depression induced by the last few days' steady drizzle must speedily take wings before the good cheer and ready fun of this evening's principal Coronet Theatre attraction—the delightful comedy rejoicing in the name of "The Beloved Villain." With the leading player an actress so winsome and engaging as Wanda Hawley and the picture fresh from the Reelart studios, it is only necessary to hint at the outlines of the story to indicate the enjoyment "The Beloved Villain" affords. A young French lawyer called away on business just as he is becoming very interested in a case fair Suzanne asks a friend to investigate her family and if everything is suitable to make a formal proposal of marriage on his behalf. Succumbing to the lady's charms himself the friend writes to the lawyer that she would not make him a good wife because she takes after her father, a confirmed drunkard and her mother, a notorious cabaret dancer. He then marries the girl himself and moves to another town. A year later the lawyer calls to see him. Then his troubles begin. How he tries to cover his deception, how the friend eventually learns the truth, and how the furious wife takes her revenge—not to mention the parallel misadventures of an older couple—make a picture that would drive away the shadows of the worst weather.

Born in the "Victory"

Mrs. Mary Ann Carr, living with her son at Portsmouth, can claim the distinction, probably a unique one, of having been born in his Majesty's ship, "Victory," Nelson's flagship, which is now in dry dock at the port, and may possibly be retained in the same berth owing to her condition which is the subject of an Admiralty survey. When Mrs. Carr was born on May 24, 1837, the "Victory" was lying at her mooring off Gosport and her father was captain's cook, and with other of the more important servants, was allowed the privilege of leaving his berth aboard with him.

Mrs. Carr remembers that in her childhood the officers used to play with her, and she believes the captain's name was Scaris. She recollects seeing a man board, and recalls the fragments that were scattered to secure unwilling attention.
